If anything can be said of the past year, it is that it's been the year of changes.

Local Changes

We saw the end of an era with Christine Brill retiring after 32 years as CEO of AMA (ACT) and its predecessors.

We saw a new Director General for ACT Health with the departure of Dr Peggy Brown and the appointment of Nicole Feely.

Katy Gallagher moved from being our ACT Chief Minister and Health Minister to the Senate which necessitated the appointment of a new Health Minister, Simon Corbell.

With the change to Primary Health Networks, I’m pleased to say that the ACT Medicare Local, with whom we have always maintained a strong relationship, was the successful tenderer and became the Capital Health Network. Dr Martin Liedvogel is the chair and Gaylene Coulton is the new CEO.

All these changes certainly added to the challenge of being AMA (ACT) President and establishing these new relationships is a work in progress.

While the President’s role involves a steep learning curve, I was fortunate during my first year to have the invaluable guidance, superb skills and deep corporate knowledge of Christine to assist me. The second year, I had a bit more confidence in myself and my role, and was very reassured by the arrival of our new CEO Peter Somerville who has brought with him a wealth of different experiences, emphasis and interests that have added a new twist to the office. I have really enjoyed working beside him, and learning from him too. I no longer quake when the media calls for comments, and have really come to appreciate how the AMA (ACT) is the go-to organisation for comments and feedback on most health related issues.

Board Changes

I would also like to thank my Board who, as always, provide a wealth of experiences and support, and makes what I do considerably easier.

The Board has likewise seen changes over the year with Professor Stephen Robson joining us and then stepping up to take the president-elect position. We were likewise fortunate for to have Dr Rashmi Sharma become Chair of the Advisory Council and join the Board. Rashmi, as most members would know, brings a wealth of experience from the many roles she has played in the Canberra Medical Community over the years, and in particular her role as Chairman of the former Medicare Local.

While Steve and Rashmi joined the Board during the year, we were unfortunate to lose Dr Guy Buchanan. I thank Guy for his commitment and involvement over the years and wish him well in his new pursuits.

Most recently, we have, unfortunately, lost our longstanding Secretary, Dr Jo-Anne Benson. Jo has reluctantly stood down due to her work commitments and we are very sad to see her go not only from the Board but also from the Canberra Doctor editorial Committee.

The recent Board elections has seen some changes with Dr Antonio Di Dio taking on the role of President-elect. Dr Suzanne Davey will become Secretary and I have decided to remain involved as a member of the Board.
Activities and Events
As usual, we have maintained our relationship with the ANU Medical School, the highlight of which was hosting the Graduation Breakfast for the graduating class of 2015 in December.

I congratulate Lauren O’Rourke who won the annual AMA (ACT) Prize for student leadership. Lauren is now an Intern in ACT Health and has maintained her involvement with AMA ACT as one of our Doctors in Training representatives.

We also attended Intern Orientation at Canberra Hospital and the orientation day for other DITs new to Canberra.

This year, for the first time in several years, we asked interns to pay for their AMA membership. While this was a significant change, we’ve been successful in gaining around half of the interns as new members. The challenge of course, is to retain them as members by making the AMA relevant to their needs and provide services that they want.

To that end, one of the very successful activities we held for the first time in 2015 was an interview skills workshop for DITs and medical students. With competition for training positions and jobs becoming fiercer, interview skills and CV preparation skills have become increasingly important.

We also followed the tradition of hosting welcome drinks at the Uni Pub to welcome our new intake of medical students and introduce them to the AMA (ACT). Of course, it’s one of the strengths of the AMA that we are the only membership organisation that will follow medical students from their first day as a student though an active career and into retirement, no matter what career path they choose.

Workplace Relations
One of the membership innovations we are pursuing is joint membership for DITs with the JMO Association and ASMOF. While we didn’t quite get these across the line, I’m hopeful that in the near future we will.

Workplace relations activities saw a wide range of individual and collective matters being dealt with and, for salaried doctors, this primarily meant the new enterprise agreement. Despite various challenges to the validity of the process, the Fair Work Commission endorsed the agreement and it’s been in operation since January 2016.

While it’s good news to have the new agreement in place, because of the various delays and challenges, it’s now only 12 months until the next round of bargaining. As tough and drawn out as the last negotiations were, we can be sure that the next round while focus on a range of issues and also see us seeking input from members about whether any new agreement should be split up into an agreement for Senior Doctors and an agreement for DITs.

The VMO Contract negotiations have been colourful to say the least. After a disrupted negotiating period, that featured walkouts and threats of litigation, a wide range of issues remained to be arbitrated. With the arbitration scheduled for three days, the Arbitrator called a halt at the end of the second day and sent ACT Health, the VMOA and AMA (ACT) away to try and reduce the number of matters to be arbitrated.

While we have grave concerns about some of the claims made by ACT Health, we remain hopeful that some common sense and the threat of an arbitrated outcome may bring us closer together.

Of all the issues we’ve been involved in over the last year, major one has been bullying, discrimination and sexual harassment in the workplace. With the various AMA entities across the states and territories and with Federal AMA to the forefront, we are all striving to get a just solution to an insidious problem.
In the ACT, the issue was kick started when ACT Health commissioned a report into the Training Culture at the Canberra Hospital. Unfortunately, the next step involved ACT Health setting up a new Clinical Cultural Committee in circumstances where there was no consultation with the AMA (ACT) or other interest groups. While this was very unfortunate, constructive discussion since that time lead me to be reasonably confident that the concerns of young doctors and the AMA (ACT) will be listened to.

Locally, the AMA Public Hospital Report Card has continued to highlight the relative underperformance in wait times in A&E and surgical waiting lists compared to the rest of Australia. On the upside, ACT Health’s performance improved in key areas from the previous year and we remain willing to assist with progressive improvements to the system.

Other Issues
One thing I have realised in my two years is just how slow the wheel can sometimes turn, and some of the issues I began with, are still churning along. In particular, the NSP programme at the Alexander Maconochie Centre is still slowly evolving, as is the medical cannabis models. The latter though, seems to be nearing a resolution, thankfully, not in the form proposed by the Greens last year, but towards a more strictly regulated model of supply and use.

As for looking forward to 2016, we now have date for the Federal election and we will also face an ACT election. As members would expect we will be engaging with all sides of politics, commenting on the health policies, advocating for the health of our community and urging health to be a priority - no matter what the outcome of the election.

Sign-off
Thus ends my second year as President and the end of my tenure. I have really valued being the local representative and feel proud to have been associated with the AMA at both the local and Federal level. Thank you to all who have supported me and allowed me to represent you. I feel confident in handing on the baton to my colleague, Prof Steve Robson, someone who brings outstanding skills to the job and I’m certain AMA (ACT) will continue to thrive under his leadership. Welcome Steve.
Presented in AMA ACT’s Annual Report are the Company’s financial statements for the 2015 financial year. These have been prepared and audited in accordance with company law.

The 2015 calendar year has again been marked by a surplus, with a reported result of $39,375 (2014 result $33,667). Revenues have decreased again, a trend predicted in 2014, but expenses have been contained allowing the positive result.

Total AMA ACT revenue for 2015 decreased by approximately $22,000 from 2014. The winding up of the Careers Service MOU has made a significant negative impact in revenues as predicted in the 2014 report. In 2014 this contributed over $47,000 to the Company’s results. It can be seen that if this effect is set aside the other revenue streams are starting to take up the slack and the net revenue reduction has been partly offset by these activities. Membership revenues increased by over $18,000 from 2014.

The Company’s publishing activities continue to return significant revenues with Canberra Doctor and the Specialist Directory both breaking last year’s record results. There has been a nominal increase in rental revenue. Sponsorship revenues have improved marginally.

The Doctors’ Health Advisory Service funds are booked as income and appear on the balance sheet, but are pre-committed in their entirety to the service. The advent of the AHPRA mandated Doctors Health Service will change the reported figures in future years but there will be no net effect on the Company’s finances.

The Company also experienced a decrease in total expenses of approximately $28,000 in 2015 compared to 2014. Legal expenses have reduced with the conclusion of the MOU with Federal AMA. Expenses such as printing and postage have been contained, with a 40% reduction over 2014. The publishing activities achieved a 5% increase in margin due to careful containment of expenses whilst print runs increased. An increase in sponsorship income was largely offset by a reduction in commission income.

As a result of the carry forward of accumulated tax losses from prior years no income tax is currently payable on any surplus generated from commercial activities by the Company.

The results presented this year represent the combined efforts of our outgoing CEO Christine Brill and the incoming CEO Peter Somerville. Transitions such as this will always present a challenge for a small company such as ours, but Christine has left a great legacy for which we acknowledge with immense gratitude.

The transition has been achieved with no dislocation to member services and business activities, although there have been challenges including the printer for Canberra Doctor going into receivership. The new CEO Peter Somerville has maintained a committed and professional approach to reviewing business activities, and developing an ongoing plan. There has been some turnover in staff, but no more than expected, and the office has been reorganised to improve efficiency. A new accountant, Ms Tanya Smith, has been appointed.
As always the primary focus of the Company is the provision of membership services including support and advocacy. Whilst the drive to expand membership continues as a project, the Company will continue to explore business activities that will allow a diversification of its income stream. We will continue to work with our sponsors and advertisers to build on the benefits available to AMA (ACT) members and improve the overall value of AMA ACT membership.

Finally I would like to express my gratitude to the Board for their interest and support in a year of change for the Company. The Board has maintained a high level of activity and engagement in ensuring that the transition of CEO incumbents has been achieved without drama. I would also like to thank the Company Accountant, Tanya Smith and CEO, Peter Somerville for their attention to the completion of the 2015 financial reporting requirements.

Feedback from the medical profession, other health professionals, related councils and entities, hospitals, politicians and bureaucrats, and the community is constantly monitored by management and reported to the Board for consideration and action if required. The volume of requests for AMA (ACT) Input Advice from the medical profession, other health professionals, related councils and entities, hospitals, politicians and bureaucrats, and the community, and the quality and timeliness of the AMA ACT response is also constantly monitored by management and reported to the Board for consideration and action if required.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

Australian Medical Association (ACT) Limited
Notes to the Financial Statements
31 December 2015

NOTE 1. CORPORATE INFORMATION

Australian Medical Association (ACT) Limited is a not for profit public company limited by guarantee, incorporated in the Australian Capital Territory under the Corporations Act 2001. The financial statements cover the Company as an individual entity.

The nature of the operations and principal activities of the Company are described in the Directors’ report.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Preparation

The Australian Medical Association (ACT) Limited has elected to adopt the Australian Accounting Standards-Reduced Disclosure Requirements (established by AASB 1053 Application of Tiers of Australian Accounting Standards and AASB 2010-2 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from Reduced Disclosure Requirements).

The financial report is a general purpose financial report, which has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act 2001, Australian Accounting Standards (Reduced Disclosure Requirements of the Australian Accounting Standards Board).

A number of new or revised Australian Accounting Standards are effective for the first time in the current financial year. These standards have had no material impact on the entity.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical costs modified by the revaluation of selected non-current assets, financial assets and financial liabilities for which the fair value basis of accounting has been applied.

The following is a summary of the material accounting policies adopted by the Company in the preparation of the financial statements. Unless otherwise stated, the accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the previous year.
NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont’d)

(a) Property Plant and Equipment

Plant and equipment is stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Such cost includes the cost of replacing parts that are eligible for capitalisation when the cost of replacing the parts is incurred.

Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the assets as follows:

- Plant and equipment – over 4 to 15 years
- Fittings and fixtures – over 4 to 15 years

Impairment

The carrying values of plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable.

If any indication exists and where carrying values exceed the estimated recoverable amount, the assets are written down to their recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of plant and equipment is the greater of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

(b) Investment Property

Land and buildings are measured at cost including transaction costs and initial direct costs of negotiating operating leases less accumulated depreciation on buildings and initial direct operating lease costs and less any impairment losses recognised after the date of the revaluation.

Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the property as follows:

- Investment property – over 50 years
- Initial Direct Operating Lease costs – over the life of the lease

(c) Taxes

Income tax

Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from, or paid to, the taxation authorities based on the current period’s taxable income. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred income tax is provided on all temporary differences at the balance sheet date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.
NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont’d)
(c) Taxes (cont’d)

Goods and Services Tax

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST except:

where the GST incurred on a purchase of goods and services is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item as applicable; and receivables and payables are stated with the amount of GST included.

The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included as part of receivables or payables in the balance sheet.

Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis and the GST component of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities, which is recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority are classified as part of operating cash flows.

(d) Financial Instruments

Recognition

Financial instruments are initially measured at cost on trade date, which includes transaction costs, when the related contractual rights or obligations exist. Subsequent to initial recognition these instruments are measured as set out below.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

A financial asset is classified in this category if acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the short term or if so designated by management and within the requirements of AASB 139 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. Derivatives are also categorised as held for trading unless they are designated as hedges. Realised and unrealised gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of these assets are included in the profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market and are stated at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

Held-to-maturity investments

These investments have fixed maturities, and it is the intention to hold these investments to maturity. Any held-to-maturity investments held are stated at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets include any financial assets not included in the above categories. Available-for-sale financial assets are reflected at fair value. Unrealised gains and losses arising from changes in fair value are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the investment revaluation reserve.
Notes to Financial Statements (cont’d)
31 December 2015

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont’d)
(d) Financial Instruments (cont’d)

Financial liabilities
Non-derivative financial liabilities are recognised at amortised cost, comprising original debt less principal payments and amortisation.

Fair value
Fair value is determined based on current bid prices for all quoted investments. Valuation techniques are applied to determine their fair value for all unlisted securities, including recent arm’s length transactions, referenced to similar instruments and option pricing models.

Impairment
At the end of the reporting period, an assessment is made whether there is objective evidence that a financial instrument has been impaired. In the case of available-for-sale financial instruments, a prolonged decline in the value of the instrument is considered to determine whether an impairment has arisen. Impairment losses are recognised in the profit or loss.

(e) Employee Benefits

Wages, Salaries and Annual Leave
Liabilities for wages, salaries and annual leave expected to be settled within 12 months of the reporting date are recognised in respect of employee’s service up to the reporting date. They are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled, plus related on-costs.

Long Service Leave
All other employee benefit liabilities are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date. In determining the present value of future cash outflows, the interest rates attaching to government guaranteed securities which have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related liability are used.

(f) Cash and Cash Equivalents
Cash and cash equivalents in the balance sheet comprise cash at bank and in hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and cash equivalents as defined above, net of outstanding bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are included within interest-bearing loans and borrowings in current liabilities on the balance sheet.

(g) Receivables
Trade receivables are recognised and carried at original invoice amount less an allowance for impairment. Collectibility of trade receivables is reviewed on an ongoing basis. Individual debts that are known to be uncollectible are written off when identified. An impairment provision is recognised when there is objective evidence that the company will not be able to collect the receivable.

(h) Investments
Unlisted shares and investment property are carried at cost.
NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd)

(i) Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is or contains a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement and requires an assessment of whether the fulfilment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets and the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset.

Operating Leases

The minimum lease payments of operating leases, where the lessor effectively retains substantially all of the risks and benefits of ownership of the leased item, are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Operating lease incentives are recognised as a liability when received and subsequently reduced by allocating lease payments between rental expense and reduction of the liability.

(k) Payables

Trade payables and other payables are carried at amortised cost and represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of the financial year that are unpaid and arise when the Company becomes obliged to make future payment in respect of the purchase of these goods and services.

(l) Borrowings

All loans and borrowings are initially recognised at the fair value of the consideration received less directly attributable transaction costs.

After initial recognition, interest bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the Company has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the balance sheet date.

Interest is charged as an expense as it accrues.

(l) Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the entity and the revenue can be reliably measured. The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognised:

ACT Subscription Fees

Subscription fees are accounted for on a straight-line basis over the subscription period.

Grants

Income arising from the contribution of an asset to the entity is recognised when, and only when all of the following conditions have been satisfied:

(a) the entity obtains control of the contribution or the right to receive the contribution;
(b) it is probable that the economic benefits comprising the contribution will flow to the entity; and
(c) the amount of the contribution can be measured reliably.

Levy and Functions

Revenue is recognised when the Company's right to receive payment is established.
NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont’d)

(I) Revenue Recognition (cont’d)

Sundry income
Sundry income is recognised when the Company’s right to receive payment is established.

Commission
Revenue is recognised when service is rendered or when the fee in respect of the services is receivable.

Interest
Revenue is recognised as the interest accrues (using the effective interest method, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument) to the net carrying amount of the financial asset.

All revenue is stated net of amount of goods and services tax (GST).

(m) Comparatives
Where necessary, comparatives have been reclassified for consistency.

(n) Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgements

The directors evaluate estimates and judgements incorporated into the financial statements based on historical knowledge and best available current information. Estimates assume a reasonable expectation of future events and are based on current trends and economic data, obtained both externally and within the Company.

The directors do not believe that there were any key estimates or key judgements used in the development of the financial statements that give rise to a significant risk of material adjustment in future.
